Short Description

The Hamulight LED transformer 12-volt is suitable for providing the Alfena deck lights with the correct working voltage.

Description

This transformer provides your Alfena deck lights with the correct working voltage. The transformer is equipped with a plug that you can plug directly into the wall socket. The transformer converts the incoming 230 V into a safe 12 V low voltage. Using the connection piece, you can easily connect this transformer to the Alfena LED deck lights.

The extension cables for the deck lighting are also equipped with the same coupling so that you can also connect the extension cables to this transformer.
